Antennas and Propagation Mini Symposium

The 2013 IEEE International Symposium on Antennas and Propagation will be held July 7-13 in Orlando, FL, and includes a number of papers authored by Syracuse University students. This event will feature several papers, with a format very similar to the AP-S symposium.

Pizza and refreshments will be served

The Center for Advanced
Systems and Engineering

This event is organized by the Syracuse Chapter of the AP/MTT/EMC Societies of the IEEE. Additional support provided by The Center for Advanced Systems and Engineering and the L.C. Smith College of Engineering and Computer Science at Syracuse University.
