

IEEE Power Engineering Society
Switchgear Committee
C37.20.2 Working Group Report
October 10, 2000

The working group met on October 10, 2000.

The document was approved as an IEEE document and published with a 1999 date.

IEEE also submitted the document to ANSI, as IEEE is an accredited standards developer recognized by ANSI. Therefore, even though the document was not submitted for final approval under the ANSI C37 process, it is recognized as an ANSI document.

Further activity is thus moot, and a request to disband the working group will be submitted to the Switchgear Assemblies subcommittee.
