ONLINE Virtual Meeting

Friday, 20th, 2021 10:00 AM- 11:00 AM US-Central (Houston-Chicago)

Title: Apprenticeship in the Dark Arts: Getting Started with Penetration Testing

Speaker: Hayes Lewis, CISSP

PRESENTATION: Penetration testing is one of the most mythologized forms of cybersecurity engineering, and because of the mystique around it, people are unsure where to begin when pursuing a red-team career. This session will explore basic terminology and methodology, and how to get started in a career in the field.

PRESENTER: Hayes Lewis, CISSP, has spent over a decade as a systems engineer and a cybersecurity engineer in both aerospace & defense as well as in medical technologies. He is a Senior Member of IEEE and holds degrees from Southern Methodist University and Vanderbilt University.

This event is organized by the Galveston Bay section Life Member Affinity Group, Joint Societies chapters and Computer chapter. IEEE/Fort Worth section/Computer chapter is the cosponsor.

The presentation is FREE and open to all Interested IEEE and non-IEEE members.

Registration is required by THURSDAY August 19th, 2021 (Close of Business) 5:00 PM (US Central) to attend.
