IEEE Standards Development eTools

IEEE SA offers a variety of tools to assist in the standards development process. For assistance with requesting access to any of the tools, please contact your IEEE SA Program Manager.

myProject

myProject is the Standard Association's tool to allow you to better manage and keep up to date on projects and topics that you are interested in.

IEEE SA Open

A comprehensive open source development platform that harnesses the power of familiar open source development tools.

Learn More >

iMeet Central

This web-based collaboration workspace can be used to upload and share files, continue discussions via available fora, and manage timeline and milestones via calendar.

Learn More >

WordPress

WordPress is a content management system which can be used to host your Working Group's website.

Learn More >

Webex

Web/Teleconference service offered at no cost to Sponsors and their WGs. Contact your PM for creation.

Learn More >

Listserv

Email list management tool.

Learn More >

IEEE Xplore

IEEE's platform for the IEEE store and subscriptions containing IEEE standards, journals, transactions, letters, magazines and conference proceedings, IET journals and conference proceedings, and IEEE educational courses.

3004.8

Recommended Practice for Motor Protection in Industrial and Commercial Power Systems

Sign up for 3004.8 Project in myProject and mentor on IEEE SA website

Thank you for your interest in the standards development project P3004.8, which is sponsored by the the Standards Development Committee (SDC) of the IEEE Industry Applications Society (IAS).

If you are interesting in the development of this project, you will need to sign up for (also known as "join") the activity in myProject(TM) and mentor. These are web-based tools used by IEEE members, staff, and other individuals who want to participate in the standards process. It allows you to better manage and keep up to date on projects and topics in which you are interested.

See "Documents" tab for further instructions.

Remember to "log in" to access Working Group information.
